

Bedding Flowers

No other flower provides as much beauty and bang for your buck as bedding flowers. Flora Garden Society offers hundreds of bedding flowers in every shape, color, and size. Flora Garden Society carries both annual and perennial bedding flowers, with your choice of seed or transplant. Bedding plants are versatile, and will be a vibrant addition to your garden, hanging baskets, or yard border.

Most of our bedding flowers require full sun. Seedlings and transplants should be acclimated to outdoor conditions before being planted outside. The easiest way to transition bedding flowers is to leave them outside for a few days prior to planting. Growing bedding flowers from seed requires a little time and patience, but the process can be more cost effective in the long run. Adding liquid fertilizer will encourage new growth in both seeds and seedlings. The majority of bedding flowers need ample moisture and should be watered daily in the summer. Removing dead or damaged flowers is crucial to encouraging new growth and additional blooms.
